Statement on Fund for Tuition Reduction

The Alumnae Trustees of Sarah Lawrence College have been deeply impressed since the January announcement of the tuition increase by the understanding of the students and the many hours they have given in seeking ways to develop new programs which would cut costs. Therefore, because of their appreciation of the constructive work of the student body, Alumnae Trustees obtained sufficient funds to reduce the proposed increase for 1969-1970 by $100 per student. The fund which was provided last week before students began their protest was viewed as a way of providing the College with time for a "turn-around" year in which changes for the long run might be made.
